ABOUT US

Founded in 2008, lighttexture is a design collaborative between an architect and a lighting designer creating unique designer lamps.

We work together, each bringing a different set of skills and sensibilities, to create a robust collection of fixtures that are both playful and sensual, making the lights a conversation through design.

FOUNDING PARTNERS & DESIGNERS

Avner Ben Natan has been working with light as material since the early 90's in his work as a lighting designer in films and television. After he moved to New York, he began to extend the work with light into the design of light fixtures and environments for art and dance installations, residential and commercial projects. Lead lighttexture designer and partner in charge of management.

Yael Erel is an architect, educator and light artist. She interweaves light optics research with academic teaching and practice. As light became the focus of Erel's work, she pursued her graduate studies at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute to gain knowledge of light as material. Her current research studies systems of light sources and reflectors that construct spatial and temporal light-drawings. Lead lighttexture designer and partner in charge of research.

CERAMICS

Amanda Messineo has a BFA in metalsmithing and ceramics from SUNY New Paltz. She has been an essential part of lighttexture assembly and manufacturing team since 2017. She works alongside Ross Kunze in a decommissioned church that has been converted to a robust ceramics studio.

Ross Kunze is a professional potter at Ross Kunze Pottery who works with Amanda Messineo. Together, they handle the molding, pouring, glazing, and perforation of lighttexture's ceramics. He has worked with lighttexture since 2019.

DESIGN

Jackson Q. Gray is a designer who has worked in product design, marketing, and fabrication for lighttexture since 2023. He is responsible for creating the 3D models and prints from which lighttexture's ceramic shades are created.

CLAYLIGHT SERIES

Meticulously handcrafted with natural materials, our Claylight shades are cast in white ceramic, porcelain and terracota, perforated by hand with delicate dot and line patterns.

As light filters through perforations in the shade, mesmerizing shapes dance on your walls, creating unique light drawings in your home.

Exploring lighting design as a spatial practice, the Claylight series transforms light into a tangible material and infuses your surroundings with contemporary elegance.

IRIS

IRIS SERIES

The Iris is a bold and captivating mechanism that imparts a dreamlike atmosphere onto a room.

Handcrafted with precision, a plurality of overlapping leaves in brass or stainless steel allow you to shape and mold light to create ambient symphonies of light and shadow.

With the freedom to customize upward bounce light, downward illumination, or a harmonious combination of both, our Iris design excels in adaptability, serving as a unique statement piece for any decor.

Illuminate your home with an array of glistening caustic effects that move, mesmerize, and redefine the ambiance of any space.

STEAMLIGHT SERIES

The Steamlight, the first lighttexture lamp, was created as a birthday present from Avner to Yael: a bedside light made from a vegetable steamer.

With captivating aesthetic and functional qualities, the Steamlight casts dazzling light textures, projecting unique patterns throughout the room. With ease, one could adjust the shade to aim it at the pages of a book while preserving relative darkness in the rest of the room.

The lamp head operates as an iris, enlarging or reducing the central light beam. The leaves are both reflective and perforated, creating distinct light patterns that balance formal and practical function.

Exploring the idea of manufacturing the Steamlight at a larger scale, the perfect steam basket was sought, and the Steamlight evolved into a family of adjustable light fixtures that gave way to the founding of lighttexture.
